Your comment: It is the intention of WSSIG - the Wall Street Special Interest Group, to present a comment for the record, regarding the proposed new regulatory approach bearing on General Electric. We are in the process of giving General Electric's Board of Directors an opportunity to address our concerns, as well as giving this opportunity to the CEO of GE Capital. There are several areas of concern which must be discussed, and thus far the General Electric Board of Directors has stonewalled, and the leadership of GE Capital has stonewalled as well. That is not how GE works, and this is unacceptable. Communications have been attempted electronically with them, and they have ignored the communications. Therefore, we will request an opportunity to address the GE Board of Directors and the leadership of GE Capital, to give them another opportunity to answer.
