Your comment: The banking system is legal but Unconstitutional.

Gold is money. It should only be used to be part of coinage not trade. Paper if used in any situation should always be directly convertible into gold. Criminals know this and they hate this because it prevents them from stealing. Only the government can coin money made of gold and interest should never be charged for the use of money. Traitors know this and those who involve themselves in violating any of the above are just that...traitors. The entire system lacks honesty, integrity and stifles productivity while rewarding the vile and useless overwhelmingly.
