June 30, 2023

BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

The Federal Reserve System is the central bank of the United States. It performs five key functions to promote the effective operation of the U.S. economy and, more generally, the public interest.

The Federal Reserve

- conducts the nation's monetary policy to promote maximum employment and stable prices in the U.S. economy;
- promotes the stability of the financial system and seeks to minimize and contain systemic risks through active monitoring and engagement in the U.S. and abroad;
- promotes the safety and soundness of individual financial institutions and monitors their impact on the financial system as a whole;
- fosters payment and settlement system safety and efficiency through services to the banking industry and U.S. government that facilitate U.S.-dollar transactions and payments; and
- promotes consumer protection and community development through consumer-focused supervision and examination, research and analysis of emerging consumer issues and trends, community economic development activities, and administration of consumer laws and regulations.

Overview

The Federal Reserve supplements the release of its annual financial statements with three quarterly financial reports to summarize the unaudited combined financial position and results of operations of the 12 Reserve Banks. The combined financial information reported includes the accounts and results of operations of each Reserve Bank and some consolidated variable interest entities.

The report contains

- the combined statements of condition, operations, and changes in capital; and
- eight explanatory notes that provide supplemental financial information for line items in the combined quarterly statements.

For more information about Federal Reserve Board financial statements and reporting, visit our website at <https://www.federalreserve.gov/aboutthefed/fed-financial-statements.htm>. For more information about how the Federal Reserve Board supervises Federal Reserve Bank operations, see the “Payment System and Reserve Bank Oversight” section of our latest Annual Report (<https://www.federalreserve.gov/publications/annual-report.htm>).

The following unaudited financial statements—for the quarter-ended June 30, 2023—summarize the combined financial position and results of operations of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks. The notes cited in the financial statements provide supplemental financial information for specific line items.

Supplemental Financial Information

(1) Loans

Loans to Depository Institutions

The Board of Governors authorized the Reserve Banks to offer primary, secondary, and seasonal credit extensions to eligible borrowers under section 10B of the Federal Reserve Act (FRA). Primary loans provide discount window credit for periods up to 90 days, secondary loans are extended on a short-term basis, typically overnight, and seasonal loans may be extended for a period of up to nine months. Other credit extensions include outstanding loans to depository institutions that were subsequently placed into Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) receivership, including depository institutions established by the FDIC. All loans must be secured to the satisfaction of the Reserve Bank.

Other Loans

On March 12, 2023, the Board of Governors authorized the Bank Term Funding Program (BTFP) under section 13(3) of the FRA to make additional funding available to eligible depository institutions by extending loans of up to one year to help assure banks have the ability to meet the needs of all their depositors. BTFP includes outstanding loans to a depository institution that was subsequently placed in FDIC receivership. Eligible collateral includes Treasury securities, federal agency and government-sponsored enterprise (GSE) mortgage-backed securities (MBS), GSE debt securities, and other qualifying assets and the collateral will be valued at par value. The Treasury, using the Exchange Stabilization Fund, made available $25 billion as credit protection to the BTFP. New credit extensions will be available until at least March 11, 2024.

The Board of Governors authorized the Paycheck Protection Program Liquidity Facility (PPPLF) under section 13(3) of the FRA to support the flow of credit to households and businesses. The PPPLF program extended credit to eligible financial institutions that participate in the Small Business Administration's (SBA) Paycheck Protection Program, taking the loans as collateral at face value. The PPPLF's authority to extend new loans ended July 30, 2021.

Total loans	$ 7	$ 3,783	$ 1,493	$ –	$ 11,443	$ 16,726

<sup>1</sup> Balances presented in the performing and past due category include outstanding loans to depository institutions (including FDIC-established depository institutions) that were subsequently placed in receivership. These loans are recognized as performing based upon payment due from receiverships, collateral for the loans, and the FDIC repayment guarantees.

<sup>2</sup> Balances presented in the performing and past due category have reached maturity and are recognized as performing loans based upon the underlying guarantee of the collateral by the SBA. PPPLF balances have been reclassified from the within 15 days category to the performing and past due category as of December 31, 2022.

At June 30, 2023, and December 31, 2022, the Reserve Banks did not have any loans that were impaired, restructured, past due and determined to be non-performing, or on non-accrual status, and no allowance for loan losses was required.

Federal agency and GSE residential MBS (RMBS) and commercial MBS (CMBS) are reported at stated maturity in table 6. The estimated weighted-average lives of these securities differ from the stated maturity in table 6 primarily because these estimated weighted-average lives factor in scheduled payments and prepayment assumptions. The estimated weighted-average life of RMBS and CMBS as of June 30, 2023, and December 31, 2022, was as follows:

At June 30, 2023, and December 31, 2022, the fair value of foreign currency denominated investments held in the SOMA was $17,859 million and $18,112 million, respectively.

Because of the global character of bank funding markets, the Federal Reserve System has, at times, coordinated with other central banks to provide liquidity. The Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) authorized and directed the FRBNY to maintain standing U.S. dollar liquidity swap arrangements with the Bank of Canada, the Bank of England, the Bank of Japan, the European Central Bank, and the Swiss National Bank in order to provide U.S. dollar liquidity to foreign markets. Effective March 20, 2023, the Bank of Canada, the Bank of England, the European Central Bank, the Swiss National Bank, and the Federal Reserve announced a coordinated effort to enhance the provision of liquidity through the standing U.S. dollar liquidity lines that increased the frequency of seven day maturity operations from weekly to daily. At the end of April, the daily operations reverted back to weekly.

(3) Consolidated Variable Interest Entities (VIEs)

The Board of Governors authorized several lending facilities under section 13(3) of the Federal Reserve Act (FRA) to support the flow of credit to households and businesses. The combined financial statements include the accounts and result of operations of the consolidated VIEs formed to administer certain lending facilities. A Reserve Bank consolidates a VIE if it has a controlling financial interest. The Reserve Banks that are controlling members have extended loans to the VIEs under the authority of section 13(3) of the FRA. Intercompany balances and transactions are eliminated in consolidation. Pursuant to the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act), the Treasury provided credit protection to the limited liability companies (LLCs) and is a non-controlling member of MS Facilities LLC (Main Street), Municipal Liquidity Facility LLC (MLF), and Term Asset-Backed Securities Loan Facility II LLC (TALF II). The assets of the VIE and the amounts provided by the Treasury as credit protection are used to secure the loan from the Reserve Banks.

Main Street supported small and medium-sized businesses and nonprofit organizations in sound financial condition before the onset of the pandemic through the purchase of loan participations. MLF purchased municipal notes to support lending to state, city, and county governments, certain multistate entities, and other issuers of municipal securities. TALF II supported the flow of credit to consumers and businesses by enabling issuance of asset-backed securities that were backed by student loans, auto loans, credit card loans, loans guaranteed by the SBA, and certain other assets.

The authority for MLF and TALF II to purchase assets ended December 31, 2020, and Main Street's authority to purchase assets ended on January 8, 2021. Semiannually, Main Street, MLF, and TALF II return portions of the Treasury's equity investment, as reported in table 14a and 14b, respectively.

Investments held by MLF are subject to review each reporting period to identify indications of other-than-temporary impairment, and no impairments were indicated as of June 30, 2023. TALF II loans and Main Street loan participations are evaluated for impairment in accordance with FASB Accounting Standards Codification Topic 310 and Topic 450. No impairments were indicated for loans and there were no loans in non-accrual status extended by TALF II as of June 30, 2023. Effective January 1, 2023, Main Street adopted the CECL methodology in accordance with FASB ASU 2016-13, Financial Instruments – Credit Losses (Topic 326): Measurement of Credit Losses on Financial Instruments, amended in subsequent related ASUs. The adoption of this methodology replaces the previous GAAP methodology and an immaterial amount was recorded to increase credit losses under the CECL methodology. Main Street’s allowance for loan losses consists of specific allowances for impaired loan participations and a general allowance for all other loan participations, collectively reflecting management’s estimate of probable loan losses inherent in the loan portfolio at the reporting date. The principal exposure of loan participations in non-accrual status as of June 30, 2023, and December 31, 2022, was $1.6 billion and $2.0 billion, respectively. The evaluation of loan participations purchased by Main Street, including those in non-accrual status, resulted in recording a loan loss allowance of $1.0 billion and $1.1 billion as of June 30, 2023, and December 31, 2022, respectively. Main Street realized principal and interest losses, net of subsequent recoveries, of $146.9 million and $32.0 million for charge-offs during the periods ended June 30, 2023, and June 30, 2022, respectively. In certain cases, when a borrower experiences significant financial difficulties and is unable to meet its financial obligations, modifications to contractual terms may be approved that would not otherwise have been approved if the loan were performing. The balance of modified loan participations totaled $77.5 million and $80.0 million as of June 30, 2023, and December 31, 2022, respectively.

The allocation of the excess of net unconsolidated VIE assets is determined in accordance with the limited liability company agreement for each entity. The hypothetical liquidation basis of valuation (HLBV) is applied in determining the allocation. Under the HLBV, the hypothetical liquidation of the VIE at book value forms the basis for allocating income or loss and net assets between its controlling and non-controlling interest holders.

(4) Federal Reserve Notes

Federal Reserve notes are the circulating currency of the United States. These notes, which are identified as issued to a specific Reserve Bank, must be fully collateralized. All of the Reserve Banks' assets are eligible to be pledged as collateral. At June 30, 2023, and December 31, 2022, all Federal Reserve notes, net, were fully collateralized.

(5) Depository Institution Deposits

Depository institutions' deposits primarily represent the balances in the master accounts and excess balance accounts held by the depository institutions at the Reserve Banks.

(6) Treasury Deposits

The Treasury holds deposits at the Reserve Banks in a general account pursuant the Reserve Banks' role as fiscal agent and depository of the United States.

(7) Capital and Surplus

The FRA requires that each member bank subscribe to the capital stock of the Reserve Bank in an amount equal to 6 percent of the capital and surplus of the member bank. These shares have a par value of $100 and may not be transferred or hypothecated. As a member bank's capital and surplus changes, its holdings of Reserve Bank stock must be adjusted. Currently, only one-half of the subscription is paid in, and the remainder is subject to call. A member bank is liable for Reserve Bank liabilities up to twice the par value of stock subscribed by it.

The FRA requires each Reserve Bank to pay each member bank an annual dividend on paid-in capital stock. By law member banks with more than $10 billion of total consolidated assets, adjusted annually for inflation, receive a dividend on paid-in capital stock equal to the smaller of 6 percent or the rate equal to the high yield of the 10-year Treasury note auctioned at the last auction held prior to the payment of the dividend. Member banks with $10 billion or less of total consolidated assets, adjusted annually for inflation, receive a dividend on paid-in capital stock equal to 6 percent. The dividend is paid semiannually and is cumulative.

The FRA limits aggregate Reserve Bank surplus to $6.785 billion.

The Treasury equity contribution to the consolidated VIEs is reported as an element of "Consolidated variable interest entities formed to administer credit and liquidity facilities: Non-controlling interest" in the Combined statements of condition. The reported amount also includes Treasury's allocated portion of undistributed net VIE assets as of June 30, 2023, determined in accordance with VIE agreements and accounting policies adopted by the VIEs.

(8) Income and Expense

(A) Loans to Depository Institutions and Other Loans

Interest income on primary, secondary, and seasonal loans is accrued using the applicable rate for each loan type established at least every 14 days by the Reserve Banks' boards of directors, subject to review and determination by the Board of Governors. For other credit extensions, which include outstanding loans to depository institutions that were subsequently placed in FDIC receivership (including depository institutions established by the FDIC), interest income is accrued at 100 basis points above the primary credit rate. Interest income on advances made under the BTFP and PPPLF is accrued using the applicable rate as outlined by the term sheets of the respective programs. Interest income on outstanding BTFP loans extended to a depository institution that was subsequently placed in FDIC receivership is accrued at 100 basis points above the applicable BTFP rate.

(C) Consolidated Variable Interest Entities (VIEs)

The combined financial statements include the accounts and results of operations of consolidated VIEs formed under the authority of section 13(3) of the FRA (note 3). Net income and losses from operations of the consolidated VIEs are reported as “Consolidated variable interest entities: Income, net” in the Combined statements of operations. The portion of consolidated VIE net income and loss that is allocated to the non-controlling interests is reported as “Consolidated variable entities: Non-controlling interest (income), net” in the Combined statements of operations.

(D) Depository Institution Deposits

Depository institutions earn interest at the interest of reserve balance (IORB) rate. The Board of Governors sets the IORB rate at a rate not to exceed the general level of short-term interest rates and has the discretion to change the IORB rate at any time. Effective March 16, 2022, June 16, 2022, July 28, 2022,

UNAUDITED

September 22, 2022, November 3, 2022, December 14, 2022, March 23, 2023, and May 4, 2023, the FOMC increased the established target range for the federal funds rate.

The Reserve Banks also offer term deposits through the Term Deposit Facility, and all depository institutions that are eligible to receive interest on their balances at the Reserve Banks may participate in the term deposit program. The interest rate paid on these deposits is determined by auction.

(E) Operating Expenses

The Reserve Banks have established procedures for budgetary control and monitoring of operating expenses as part of their efforts to ensure appropriate stewardship and accountability. Reserve Bank and Board governance bodies provide budget guidance for major functional areas for the upcoming budget year. The Board's Committee on Federal Reserve Bank Affairs (BAC) reviews the Banks' budgets, and the BAC chair submits the budgets to Board members for review and final action. Throughout the year, Reserve Bank and Board staffs monitor actual performance and compare it with approved budgets and forecasts.

Additional information regarding Reserve Bank operating expenses is available each year in the Annual Report of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System at <https://www.federalreserve.gov/publications/annual-report.htm>, and on the Audit webpage of the Board's website at <https://www.federalreserve.gov/regreform/audit.htm>.

(F) Reconciliation of Total Distribution of Comprehensive Income and Treasury Remittances

The Reserve Banks remitted excess earnings to the Treasury on a weekly basis for most of 2022. Most Reserve Banks did not remit excess earnings to the Treasury during 2023. At June 30, 2023, Treasury remittances are reported as "Earnings remittances to the Treasury, net" in the Combined statements of operations. In the fall of 2022, the Reserve Banks first suspended weekly remittances to the Treasury because earnings shifted from excess to less than the costs of operations, payment of dividends, and reservation of surplus. The Reserve Banks began accumulating a deferred asset, which represents the net accumulation of costs in excess of earnings and is reported as "Deferred asset—remittances to the Treasury" in the Combined statements of condition. The deferred asset is the amount of net excess earnings the Reserve Banks will need to realize in the future before remittances to the Treasury resume. This deferred asset is periodically reviewed for impairment and no impairment existed as of June 30, 2023.
