Re: unacceptable credit card fees There should be some cap on the interest rate a credit card co can charge under certain circumstances a late payment for instance can increase your interest on several cards without your knowledge and without you being late on but one. By late I mean one day. I have sent a payment in by priority mail with return receipt signature only to be told it did not matter that they sign for it as it did not get posted in a timely manner, therefore it was late. They also when adding late fees and raising interest rates as high as 28% or even 32% force your balance up over your credit limit which in turn adds another 35.00 over the limit fee. This makes it impossible for anyone individual to ever get caught up. I feel that this is not only illegal but unethical and immoral.
