To whom it may concern:

--When you render your opinion concerning this matter, I would prefer that you choose "opt-in", rather than the banks' preferred "opt-out".

--If only because I am damned sick and tired of repeatedly having to spend my time, over and over and over, to "opt-out" of private corporations' repeated attempts to make more money off of me, thru requiring me to expend time and effort to "opt-out" concerning matters both financial and private--or suffer the consequences of loss of money or loss of privacy.

--I am tired of these time thieves stealing a bit of my life by requiring me to take action to prevent that which they have no RIGHT to do beforehand.

--You can prevent this particular thieving. Please do so.

Yours truly,
