My bank charged my account overcharge because found my account was 1.35-. My account had a 1300+ put into the bank (it was a SS check that is automatic deposited each month) They told me the was automatic deducted BEFORE the SS check was deposited - within the same evening hours. My other banks ALWAYS gave days or hours before doing this If you were not at home they could charged you for any and all checks coming to the bank. This means you could be charged hundred of dollars and you would not even knowing!

That is terrible!
