I have a Citi Bank Visa card. Not only do they charge a 439.00 late fee for being perhaps a few days late. They also stick it to me with something they call Financial Charge even though I always pay more or less on time. I think there should be a 30 day period from the bill is issued to the due date. Also, there should be no Late Fee charged to people over 65. We easily forget to pay even though we try to meet the due date
