Comments:

Please stop these charges. They cost people a lot of money. A person should be notified that there are insufficient funds in their account do they want to proceed with the transaction and be charged. We have helped someone who has paid probably 5 or 6 hundred dollars or more because he thought he had the money and his paycheck had not hit. I really feel they should be told when they're making the transaction so they can decide if it's worth it or not.
