

From: Eileen M. Loschky
Subject: Electronic Fund Transfers

Comments:

I firmly believe that this customer overdraft protection is designed to make money for the banks. If it were truly a customer service, one should have to sign up for it when they open an account and would at that time be given all the appropriate disclosures about fees.