

From: Erin Hershey
Subject: Electronic Fund Transfers

Comments:

I support the opt out. Banks have to make a buck too. And consumers need to take responsibility for their finances. They'd be crying if the bank bounced every transaction too. The silent majority wants to keep this service option, so I think you should have to opt out of it.