

From: Kevin Branch
Subject: Electronic Fund Transfers

Comments:

The consumer is best served by requiring opt-in to allow banks to provide the so-called "overdraft protection" for debit & ATM card transactions. These services are not beneficial for consumers unless there is a desperate situation, which opt-in would provide for.

--

Kevin Branch