

From: Gary B. Apiag
Subject: Electronic Fund Transfers

Comments:

I for one will like for this practice to end. And that ALL ATM financial institutions informed consumers that funds were insufficient before transactions were completed, thus giving them a chance to avoid both the overdraft and the fee. And if the financial institutions do not inform their customers that the institutions should be reversing any charge and award their customer the fee amount for their customer's inconveniences.