Dear Reader,

As you will notice, I work at a Bank. I have been a loan officer for many years. These overdraft programs infuriate me! We have sold out and likened banks to loan sharks and pay day lenders. There is no way an individual should be allowed to overdraw an account with an ATM or debit transaction. Period.

The service should only apply to check clearing or reoccurring ACH debits. Here we go again. Another example of American corporate greed.
