

From: David Schuck
Subject: Electronic Fund Transfers

---

Comments:

In this day and age of instant electronic transfer of money, why do we the the "Authorization Hold"? Would this be so that banks can temporarily hold more of our money than they should be able to and charge an outrageous overdraft fee when something else hits?