I have lost hundreds of dollars to the bank because of simple mistakes. In one event the bank was notified that an $800 check was being returned. Without any notice to me they put a hold on my funds. By the time I found the problem it took half of my social security check to cover the charges. Also when I made a mistake and accidentally scheduled a payment on the wrong account, it cost me, even though I put money in the account the same day and the check didn't actually get send until the money was there and the payee didn't cash it for 7 days. A $6.00 mistake can easily cost $200. HELP
