

From: Nina Zero
Subject: Electronic Fund Transfers

Comments:

I think that banks should be required to get the customer's permission in advance and in writing before the bank is allowed to provide any overdraft protection and the ensuing fees. There should be no automatic enrollment, and customers should have to Opt IN to the overdraft protection program, rather than opting out.