The banks are over using their power to do as they please and run the american public into bankrupcy. While they sit high and mighty,noses in the air, in their multiple branches with fancy offices and rediculous pay for sitting on their ass making up ways to charge more rediculous fees. Our local bank used to be nice. They used to know us, now they don't care. We HAD instant transfer to our checking from savings to avoid overdrafts. But then the bank says "you can't have your money more than so many times a month" and they took it away. How convenient for them, now they charge us fees. I think if it's MY MONEY, they can not tell me if I can or can not have it when I want it.
