

From: Les
Subject: Electronic Fund Transfers

Comments:

To whom it may concern,

The banks that we are bailing out are no better than mobsters. They fine us for overdrafting our accounts when most of the time our balances that are shown don't reflect the accurate amount of money in there. Please we need more regulations of these thieves. My girlfriend just had 400 dollars in overdraft fees from washington mutual. When she checked her balance, she had money in her account but apparently some some had not posted to the account so she thought she had plenty of money in there.

Thank you,

Les