

From: William Snell
Subject: Electronic Fund Transfers

Comments:

Please help with the greedy practices of the banking industry in regard to the credit card fees. I know several people that have had credit problems. Not because of over extending their credit use, but because of the overdraft fees, the late payments charges, and the low payment required that keeps customers always owing and never paying off debt.

It's time the banks treated people as customers instead of a mark.