I would like to add a follow up note to my initial response. Because of the banks practices, they charged me so many NSF fees that I have not seen any of my last two paychecks. I am trying to support a family on $10 an hour. Because of what the bank has done I was unable to pay my rent and we have been evicted. We have just been added to the ranks of the homeless. I don't know what I will do but if this doesn't change I do know that I will just do without a bank account. Come next week my family and I will be sleeping in the car. It is not fair for any corporation to just take your money. Banks are getting a lot of their money by stealing it from single moms like myself, and all the little people that have accounts. If you ask me, that is just flat out THEFT!
