

From: Jerry and Trudy
Subject: Electronic Fund Transfers

Comments:

each person should be responsible for their own transactions with their card, but the bank should not give them money if it isn't available without giving them the funds not fully available at this time notice first. then and only then the customer makes the final decision on the transaction.

Jerry and Trudy