Subject: Truth in Lending

Please, PLEASE do something about these legal LOAN SHARKS called credit card companies. I had one credit card company lower my $2500 credit limit to $250.00 for no reason. Then they charged me over limit fees until I got a home equity loan and paid it off. Otherwise, I would have never paid it off. That was from Washington Mutual Bank, a supposed reputable bank.

A little letter in the mail in very fine print stating that they are changing their policies to best serve them and cost you a ton more. Please force them to be more fair and not so arbitrary.

PLEASE FIX THIS PROBLEM!!
