Comments:

I will have to put my house on the market against my wishes. The interest rates were lowered and then brought up. WHY??? I am at a fixed rate. I am a Paralegal in the field of Real Estate and no one is hiring. I have also been trying to start a business, I am advertised online. I have sent out business cards along with flyers but to no avail. The rich are getting richer, the middleclass are getting poorer and the poor are getting even more poorer. If the interest rates stayed low like they were, I'm sure I would be busy working. I'm at my wits end. If I put my house on the market, no one will buy it because the housing market sucks. It is unfair the way this economy is right now. The interest rates were lowered and they should have remain. If I could make an income in my field I could afford my mortgage instead of paying with my credit cards, in which I am forced to do at this time. I only wish I could be busy making an income instead of being forced to put my house on this terrible housing market. Thank you for your time, Joan Bastian Paralegal/Real Estate
