

From: "Cathy Semenovff" <cathysff@telus.net> on 07/08/2007 10:45:03 AM

Subject: Truth in Lending

Companies also need to be honest when asked what portion of your payments are interest and what portion is applied to the principal balance. It seems that very few companies are willing to disclose this information (that their customers have every right to know before carrying any balance whatsoever.).