Comments:

Disclosure statements from credit card companies MUST BE MADE SHORTER AND EASIER TO READ. I recently received a statement of terms from my card provider. It was 8 pages long and in 8-point type. I am a college graduate and have served as the financial officer of a corporation for over 30 years. I had trouble understanding the statement. It is unreasonable to expect consumers to read and understand such statements. Card providers should state all terms on one 8.5 X 11" sheet of paper in 12 point type. If they can't say it in that space, it is too complicated.
