My bank Citizens Bank are absolute crooks when it comes to overdraft fees. I had forgot to write my carpayment in my check book and was therefore off. I overdrew my account but i figured it would not be that bad since my direct desposit would be there in 2 days. My direct deposit would have more than covered the amount i overdrew. But the shchiester bank instead of crediting my direct deposit first added in over $400 in overdraft fees for $150 in overdrafts and my account was negative once again this went on for a week a kept depositing money and because they kept applying the fees before the drafts my negative balance continued to grow. I finally had to take out $1000 loan to get it settled. Overall at had less that $300 that I overdrew my account and the bank charged my over $1000 in overdraft fees. This never happens at the credit union im with now because if u dont have the money in your account the debit card will not work. I tried this on purpose just to make sure I would never have the Citizens Bank nightmare again.
