Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

In medieval Europe, practitioners of the unscrupulous actions that are standard policies for nearly all US credit card companies would have been executed for their crimes. While I do not suggest a similar fate for the current loan-shark activities that these organizations proudly advertise, it is time - and more than time - to instruct them in fair and just lending and credit policies. Congress MUST act now!

Sincerely,

Ms. Frances Killilea Moore
