Subject: Regulation AA

Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

The credit card companies no longer provide a service. They are now an extortion racket that can raise the interest rate with little or no rationale. They certainly give no warning. It is time for everyone to understand that usuary has not been accepted as good business in any successful nation. It is time to end the abuses that are just a part of what is destroying the US economy. Regulations are the only thing that will end the greed with which they make their own rules.

Sincerely,

Ms. Sylvia Aronson
