Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

To Whom it may concern,

In these economically hard times everyone is struggling in their own ways including big corporations and many people are relying on credit cards to make everything work out . So I'm asking you to take a long hard look at the Credit Card companies who are preying on the consumer and even you to please consider making the appropriate changes to help make everyone's life a little less stressful in these difficult times.

Sincerely,

Ms. Jocelyn Flory
