Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

The existing credit card companies seem to have all the power and they hold all the cards. they hike up the interest for no reason, they refuse to work with anyone. even when you call and inform them of hardships you are under, and only the federal government has the power to make the use of credit cards more fair on the consumer end. thank you for your much need scrutinization of the subject.

Sincerely,

Mrs. sherry molnar
