

From: "irene lieber" <irenelieber@netzero.net> on 07/24/2008 08:10:07 PM

Subject: Regulation AA

I had cc with Discover. I was abused by the company. Threatened, insulted for something I never did. They refuse my credit and not tell me. My original Discover was never late. But there was a Discover Card I once opened never used and somehow my cc was used. How I have idea but I can not point the finger to it. I know from the statement that I never signed, called in to make a charge. I told them I want tapes of every time a charge was put on this credit card. They told me they can not do that. But, I wrote letters to Discover Card, Credit Report Companies, No one hears me. My cc limit was cut in to only $1000.00 when I had $12.000.00 I had this cc since Discover was first in business. This is how I was treated. I was not warned and was embrass when I went to use the card. I rush money over to the company just to clear the card so I would not spare embrassement. Guess what that did not matter to Discover Card. Then they stop CC. I would never open another Discover Card after the way I was treated. The money I earned from using the card was also cut in half. I built up my money to $666.50 They refuse to give me the money til I screamed and yelled. I only got $600.00 I felt I deserved every penny. I get calls after I even wrote to every one telling that these were not my charges. They write back stating I am responsible. I feel that is wrong. irenelieber@msn.com I would love to find a lawyer to sue this company.