Dear Email comments,

People complain about gas prices, and people switch to smaller cars.

People complain about credit card rates?? This menace is not as visible as the price of gas but adds expense to our daily budget and we have no one to bring FAIRNESS to the current situation. Besides who can we switch to that isn't looking to stick an extra dollar in the corporate pocket. I know that there is a price to using the banks money but don't rape me.

Sincerely,

Mr. Neal Fivehouse
