Subject: Regulation AA

Comments Federal Reserve Board

Dear Comments Federal Reserve Board,

It is amazing what the credit card companies can now get away with without fear of investigations. They lend money to people who cannot pay it of. They charge outrageous rates for the use of their cards and make it extremely difficult to contest wrong charges.

The new proposed credit card rules curb some abusive lending practices that drive consumers deeper in debt. I urge you to implement these rules to provide relief to people like me who just want a fair deal from credit card companies.

Sincerely,
Paul Gridler
