Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

deceptive practices queer any and all claims to the glory of deregulated "free markets." to allow these predatory companies to move the goalposts whenever it suits their desire to transfer wealth - from us to them - is a travesty. the only certainty is that they will spend a portion of their deregulatory windfall on lobbyists to perpetuate what should be acknowledged as financial crime.

it remains to be seen whether you will act to bring back ethical responsibility for "financial services" that were once - quite rightly - considered usurious.

Sincerely,

Mr. jake culver
