Dear Email comments,

I don't know how you can live with yourselves. Yes, it's true that most people are not as financially well off as all of you and the people who work with the credit card companies. Maybe you should ask some of the lesser titled workers in your organizations how they are faring? When you have people working two,three and four jobs just to make ends meet, it is sickening to see what the credit card companies pull in as profit.

Sincerely,

Ms. Cynthia Austin Dalen
