Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

I have been the victim of abusive practices for many years. One would think that as you, the regulators, cut the prime rate, the credit card companies would also reduce their rates. As you know, that reduction does not take place. One can be assured that when you raise the interest rate, the credit card companies fairly quickly follow suit.

Please use your regulatory authority to protect us from unfair changes and abuse.

Sincerely,

Dr. Michael Green
