Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

To whom it may concern:It's very important that the credit card company stop adding interest to a person that's trying to pay their bills on time, but sometimes they get paid once a month and the due date is before they get paid. Some credit com. change the due date every month just so you will be late and they can add the late charge.I hope you will sincerely help the middle class and poor people. Thank you,
