Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

Should the "simple" majority be held hostage to those who grant credit? Even if "personal finances" were taught in school the "authorities" would be lobbied by credit grantors to "water it down". Your proposal for new rules is greatly needed and the present system is part of the reason that we are going into a recession - the common people are up to their necks in a pool of drowning financial obligations!

Sincerely,

Mrs. Sita Fields
