Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

It really makes me mad to find out that my credit card companies have hiked their interest rate due to a report on my credit history that does not even belong to me. Why are they able to believe these false reports and up the interest rate from 7.9% to 25.9% or higher through no fault of mine?

Please do something to make these companies stop this corrupt use of power to make billions on the backs of their card holders.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Roberta M. Hale
