Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

A principle of the American system is protecting the consumer from unfair interest charges and fees. Because of the power of wealthy lenders and their lobbyists, we have lost our protections against usury. In the long run, the continuing redistribution of wealth from the middle class to the rich is not healthy for our economy. It's time to listen to the people and eliminate the arbitrary interest changes and fees allowed on credit card accounts.

Sincerely,

Mr. Evan Davidson
