Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

I once transferred a balance to a credit card, and with out ever having used the card was told I was over my credit limit and asked to pay overlimit fees. I refused, because THEY transferred the balance and then decided to give me less credit than the balance they transferred. I transferred the balance again and said I would report them to the Better Business Bureau. What if I was a person without options? What if I hadn't known they were in the wrong? Help protect people from this kind of Credit Card scam.

Sincerely,

Ms. Susan Gerry
