Dear Email comments,

The economy and unemployment being what it is, I feel the credit card companies are being usurious when they hike the rates the way they have lately. Between the credit card companies and the gas prices, we are going to end up being a third world country very soon and NO ONE in the WORLD will come to our aid as we have aided so many other nations. PLEASE do something to get credit card rates back to a manageable level.

Sincerely,

Ms. Patricia Stewart
