Federal Reserve Board Email comments

Dear Email comments,

After paying interest on interest on interest, I gave up and declared Chapter 7 as the only way to stop the predatory lending practices of ALL of my credit cards. I suffered a massive stroke in 1995. I attempted to get the credit card issuers to back off of the 29% interest rates that all of them hit me with. Finally, after ten years of paying nothing but interest, I gave up and filed bankruptcy. That is when they each said that they would have been happy to work with me. I could tell you what I told them, but I'm trying to be nice about my language.

Sincerely,

Dr. Beverly Kurtin
