Comments:

When my minimum payment of $75, paid timely, was short $0.38, the credit card issued by Barklay Bank on behalf of US Airways, assessed me in excess of $200 in interest and late charges and changed a promotional rate of 0% to a rate of 30% plus. I have an exceptional credit rating, not been late in more than forty years of dealing with banks, yet Barklay's response directed me to read their rules and regulations and the charges, after a small courtesy discount - the late charge of $39.00 - remained.
