Are you going to continue the hands off policy Senator Sarbanes continued for decades. Allowing the little person to be crushed by no proper oversight of securities brokers. No oversight of the mortgage industry. Rampantly incorrect credit reports that are impossible to fix: every time I issue a correction all three credit reporting agencies add bogus previous addresses and other people's credit information to my credit report; leaving me with more to demand correction. But you don't really care do you.

Otherwise we wouldn't have to hear all of this nonsense on national television about you and the U.S. Treasury taking no action to protect the little guy. Every institution that was created to protect the little guy is being expunged by each one of these crises: back to Senator Sarbanes and his inaction during the Savings and Loan crisis, forcing the 'closure' of the FSLIC. Now it has to be FHA/VA, SLM, etc, etc. And you will stand by and let it happen
