Comments:

credit card companies are crooks. they raised my interest rate for no reason. i have never been late making payments to them or anyone. they pay off the low interest part of my balance first instead of applying payment equally to all balances. it was their idead to have multiple interest rates in one statement but they should pay off equally. one card changes the due date every month earlier and earlier so if i pay electronically, it automatically becomes a late payment. i have to always watch due dates. they should not allow lobbyists on capital hill. illegal. bribery used to be against the law. now its legal if they don't get caught. and you catch maybe 1% of them. crooks crooks crooks
