I fell into deep credit debt when my wife began to take credit cards out in my name and forge my signiture. She had control of the account that all our incomes were directly desposited into each month for the past 14 years. She had the responsibiliy of paying all the bills. She started racking up charges over spending, and robbing Peter to pay Paul. I dicovered the problem when I went to finance 2 computers for my family and then the computer Company was only willing to finance 1500.00 at 29%. I went and a found credit report web sight and found out that we were 30,90,to 120 days past due on many bills, and we were 33000 dollars in debt. This led to the break up of our marriage.It has put our two beautiful children through alot. I am trying to get my credit score back so that I can invest in a home for my kids and I, and not throw money away renting. I pray for that day as I try to pay down this huge debt. Citi Bank and Bank America are two credit companies that allowed my wife to obtain credit cards with out my signiture.
