

Subject: Regulation AA

Date: Aug 04, 2008

---

Proposal: Regulation AA - Unfair or Deceptive Acts or Practices

Document ID: R-1314

Document

Version: 1

Release

Date:

05/02/2008

Name: Gail Coe

Affiliation:

Category of

Affiliation:

Address: P O Box 452663

City: Kissimmee

State: FL

Country: UNITED STATES

Zip: 34745

PostalCode: 34745

---

Comments:

I believe something needs to be done regulating the bank on overdraft fees. For years Bank of America has been charging me and others overdraft fees. What they do is if they receive 3 in the same day they don't take them in the order of the purchases they take the higher which will in most cases make the others be overdraft and this way they make more money. I was over by 5 cents once and it cost me 35.00. Now I heard that they are charging the overdraft when the item is pending. If you know you have a deposit coming in on friday and Thursday night you charge something on the credit card of your debit/credit they will charge you the 35.00 overdraft fee if the funds aren't there when you buy the item. I know for a fact that the banking officials strive for the overdraft fees as my sister was a manger with one of the branches for 15 years. She got fed up and left and maybe more of the customers need to do the same.