

Subject: Regulation AA

Date: Aug 09, 2008

---

Proposal: Regulation AA - Unfair or Deceptive Acts or Practices

Document ID: R-1314

Document

Version: 1

Release

Date: 05/02/2008

Name: Stephen B Ceraulo

Affiliation:

Category of Affiliation:

Address: 14049 Fairway Island Drive

125

City: Orlando

State: FL

Country: UNITED STATES

Zip: 32837

PostalCode:

---

Comments:

I have an account with Bank of America. They charge 35 dollars for every overdraft. This adds up to a lot of money for the bank if I make an error. Here is what happened to me. I made several purchases. They were all for a small amount of money except for the last one. The last purchases I made was for 100.00. This caused an overdraft of about 20.00. What Bank of America did was to pay the last charge I made first. Then they paid all of the small charges hitting me with multiple overdraft fees. Had they paid the bills in order I only would have had one overdraft fee. Not 6. At 35 dollars an overdraft this added up to a lot of money. Bank of America also moved 1 cent that I had in my savings account to checking. This was to cover the overdraft. They charged me 10 dollars to do that. I had to get a cash advance from AmScot to avoid bouncing more bills. The sickest part of all of this is that they pay the bills, then charge me, but the same bank that is happy to charge me for all of that will not give me overdraft protection. They say my credit isn't good enough for overdraft coverage. One last thing. I had a check that cleared and posted to the banks website today. The check was posted today but Bank of America moved the check's post day back one day so they could charge me an overdraft fee. They said that the check arrived at the bank the day before so they made the error in their favor.