I agree. I have asked my bank several times to remove the overdraft off my visa check card and was refused. One month over 600 dollars in fees accumulated. I am disabled and sometimes I forget to write things down. Sure I should pay attention more however when I asked them to disable this feature I do believe they should have accomadated me. Debits were paid out my accoutn I did not authorize and racked up some more fees. It is rediculous. On top of which it is a non-interest bearing account. 33.00 a pop WOW!!! Someone should regulate that. Us poor folk are always the ones people make money off of.
